Schubert, Franz (1/31/1797 - 11/19/1828)

作曲家小傳

The son of a schoolmaster who had settled in Vienna, Franz Schubert was educated as a chorister of the imperial court chapel. He later qualified as a schoolteacher, briefly and thereafter intermittently joining his father in the classroom. He spent his life largely in Vienna, enjoying the company of friends but never holding any position in the musical establishment or attracting the kind of patronage that Beethoven had 20 years earlier. His final years were clouded by illness as the result of a syphilitic infection, and he died aged 31, leaving much unfinished. His gifts had been most notably expressed in song, his talent for melody always evident in his other compositions. Schubert's compositions are generally numbered according to the Deutsch catalogue, with the letter D.

Stage Works

Schubert wrote operas, Singspiel and incidental music for the theatre. His best-known compositions of this kind include the music for the unsuccessful play Rosamunde, Fürstin von Zypern ('Rosamunde, Princess of Cyprus'), mounted at the Theater an der Wien in December 1823. The ballet music and entracte from Rosamunde are particularly well-known.

Church Music

Among the various works Schubert wrote for church use, particular mention may be made of the second of his six complete settings of the Mass. He completed his final setting of the Mass in the last year of his life, and it was first performed the following year.

Tchaikovsky: 1812 Overture 柴可夫斯基1812序曲

A programmatic work written in 1882 by Tchaikovsky to mark the dedication of the commemorative Cathedral of Christ the Saviour in Moscow. It depicts Napoleon's retreat from Moscow 70 years earlier. It makes use of the Marseillaise, a Russian folk melody, a Russian Orthodox chant (the opening theme) and the Czarist national anthem. It is often used in outdoor spectacles, not least because of its inclusion of cannons near the end. The final four minutes may be heard on Audio 1.
