...HERE, AGITATION MEANS RESTLESSNESS, EXCITEMENT. found that fitting in wasn't easy. It was the fourth day of school, and he was still eating lunch by himself. No longer able to hold back the burp, he covered his mouth in case there was a sound and let the belch go. Every head bobbed up and turned to look at him. Ms. Montgomery stood up straight, her expression one of horror as she looked around for the guilty kid. ...

..."It was funny once, but it won't be funny again, I promise." Her expression was stern, but there was a smile in her eyes. Alex looked down at his paper, but a moment later, he looked up and asked her, "What did it sound like?" "Well . . . ," she signed, pausing. "It sounded very loud!" 6 The sign for loud was similar to the sign for big. Alex picked up his pencil, turned his paper over, and wrote, "See you at lunch." ...

說明: As the new kid and the only deaf child in his class, Alex feels like he stands out. He even has to sit in front to read his interpreter's sign language. However he finds that a particular sound helps him connect with the others. Thanks to his interpreter, he can still communicate through sign language, but he must still figure out a way to settle in and make friends, and hopefully avoid embarrassment along the way!
